DEP poised to OK Greenwood tire site

But 'an oversight' by state's environmental overseers leaves local officials in the dark

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Reneging on repeated promises to local officials that they would be consulted before any final action was taken on Peter Gordon's tire storage site in Greenwood, the state Department of Environmental Protection last week appeared to be on the verge of approving a license application that would allow Gordon to legally operate and enlarge the Greenwood site.

Brendt McCarthy, of the DEP's Division of Solid Waste Facilities Management, told The Citizen last week that a license draft had been completed and was awaiting only the signature of his supervisor and DEP Commissioner Dean Marriot.

McCarthy said he was expecting the license to be signed at any time. If the license is approved at this time, it will be contrary to a number of explicit assurances by McCarthy that before any final action was taken on the site, Greenwood officials and other concerned local residents would have an opportunity to make their case against granting the license.

Reminded of these assurances, McCarthy paused for a moment, then acknowledged: "That may be the case."

He later told Greenwood Selectman Marie Bartlett that the failure to contact local officials had been "an oversight," and promised to mail her a Resigned to NTL's loss, task force will look at 'where to go from here'

By MICHAEL DANIELS

By the end of the meeting the flip charts, covered with lists, covered the walls, but little had been resolved, except to meet again.

Sunday evening two dozen Bethel area residents and business people, concerned about the impact of National Training Laboratories' decision to put an end to its Bethel operations, met at the NTL conference building to learn more about the decision and to discuss what they might do to take control of the changes that will inevitably follow from NTL's departure.

Most were concerned about the economic impact of the move, some about the loss of cultural cross-pollination that will occur when NTL participants from around the world no longer journey to Bethel in the summer.

Others questioned whether NTL has been entirely honest in describing the reasons for the decision.

NTL Executive Director Lennox Joseph, who facilitated the meeting, denied suggestions that Bethel was being scapegoated for problems that lie elsewhere in the organization.

He repeated the reasons he had given earlier for NTL's decision to give up its base in a town that has been closely associated with the organization since 1947.

The facilities in Bethel were inadequate, he argued, difficult for participants to get to, increasingly expensive to maintain, and just not attractive enough to NTL's new breed of participant.

And beyond that, he said, NTL was committed to social change and felt the time had come to cutting some change upon itself, including cutting the cord to what had long been its home—"To rebirth NTL," as Joseph termed it.

Some of those who were at the meeting appeared skeptical about the reasoning, but still willing to concede NTL's right to make its own business decisions. Others in and around Bethel have also expressed skepticism, including Ken Benne, one of the three founders of NTL.

Benne, who now lives in Lovell, told The Citizen, "I don't agree with the decision. Bethel is the symbol of NTL."

Improved flight services proposed for airfield

By MICHAEL DANIELS

A Sabattus man has proposed establishing a fixed-base aviation operation at Bethel's Col. Dyke Airfield.

The operation, which would be oriented toward private rather than commercial aviation, would offer fuel, tie downs, maintenance facilities and, eventually, ground and flight schools and a taxi service to Portland and Lewiston.

Greg Blumh had the proposal at last week's meeting of the Bethel Board of Selectmen. Presenting a draft contract, which he termed only "a basis for discussion," Blumh proposed that he and his partner, Michael Telow, rent space adjacent to the airfield from Dick Davis, and that the town grant them right-of-way access to the airfield.

The contract calls for the FBO to pay the town a small rental fee, based on tie-down rentals, fuel sales and gross receipts over $500,000. But Blumh acknowledged that the town is "not going to make any big bucks off the airport."

Four members of the town's Airport Advisory Committee were also present at the meeting to support the proposal. The committee members have long objected to the slow pace of improvements at the airport.

In a letter to the selectmen, the members noted that they had met with the partners several times and they urged the selectmen to give the proposal a green light.

"The committee has long felt there should be such an operation at the airfield," they wrote. "We all realize it will take time and hard work to establish an aviation center, and these two men are willing and able to assume this challenge."

"We members of the committee heartily endorse this proposal presented by Greg Blumh and Mike Telow, and urge you people to allow them this opportunity."

The selectmen, however, were less ready to move ahead, indicating that they intended to make no changes at the airfield until the town was able to TEST DIP—Water quality is a vital concern for members of the Community Lakes Association of Woodstock and Greenwood. For the past several summers Bob DeNormandie has been taking his boat out to the deepest part of the Twitchell Pond every two weeks and testing for water clarity and temperature. On this sunny morning last weekend, Bob found that the Secchi disk was still visible at 22 feet down (which is good) and the water temperature was 65 degrees. This year the lakes association has expanded monitoring of lakes in the two communities. The results will be discussed, along with many other water-quality matters, at the association's annual meeting, Saturday, July 13, at 9 a.m. at the Maine Conservation School in Bryant Pond. The public is encouraged to attend.

Jake's OK and due to come home today

Four-year-old Jacob Largess of Newry, who was hit Wednesday by a pickup truck while riding his bicycle near South Ridge Lodge at Sunday River Ski Resort, is due to be released from Maine Medical Center today.

He's banged up but is going to be fine, according to Sunday River spokesman Skip King.

Following the accident Jake was taken to Stephens Memorial Hospital then transferred to the Portland hospital for a CAT scan.

Greenwood debates switching to new animal control officer

But current catcher calls carping unfair

By WENDY HANSCOM

The Greenwood board of selectmen is considering changing animal control officers, but the owner of the kennel currently providing the service thinks his efforts are getting a bum rap.

The board last week discussed the possibility of replacing Robert Larrabee of Allen Hill Animal Shelter in Oxford with Marsha McKenna of McKennels in Rumford.

Woodstock selectmen have already made that change. They dropped Larrabee last month and hired McKenna.

Woodstock voters at the town's annual town meeting spearheaded the move to change animal control officers, but voters appropriated only enough money to pay Larrabee's fee for three months.

Residents at town meeting said they hoped this would move selectmen to act quickly on changing the animal control officer.

It did.

Greenwood is now contemplating a similar change.

Selectmen at last week's meeting said Larrabee responded to roughly 15 calls last year and was paid $2,706.

Selectman Marie Bartlett said financial concerns were the main reason the town was considering the change. She said Larrabee charged the town $50 per week and was asking for an additional $200 per year for use of his kennel. "McKenna charges per call and it could save the town quite a bit," she said.

Greenwood plans big birthday float parade

Greenwood will celebrate its 175th birthday on July 27, and town volunteers are wrapping up their plans for the big day.

Organizing the birthday parade and raising funds for the event has been the focus of much of the anniversary committee's efforts.

This is the first time the town has organized an anniversary. The committee has been planning the event since September and is now calling for help from townspeople.

The committee is asking friends, neighborhoods and businesses to enter a float in the parade.

The parade will have three classifications: district (neighborhood), organizational and commercial. There will be awards for first, second and third places in all three classifications. An award for the best overall float will also be given.

Letters to the editor

WHERE WERE THE VOTERS?

To the Editor:
I am writing this letter because of my growing concern about the lack of participation/interest of the citizens of Bethel in their town government. For a town that has 1,731 registered voters (as of last November) to have only 78 show up to vote at town meeting is a shame!

What I would like to know is why? It would seem to me that we should all care how the selectmen want to spend our tax dollars and if the selectmen want to enact ordinances to restrict our rights or change existing ones to make them more restrictive?

Maybe the lack of participation by the citizens is because they are satisfied with the job the selectmen are doing. However, after several conversations with voters recently, I do not believe this to be the case. But if it is, the voters should still be coming out to vote to show that support.

I think it is time that the citizens of Bethel become involved. We are letting a handful of people spend our money and regulate our lives. The lack of voter/citizen participation is indeed a shame!

IF YOU WON'T PARTICIPATE, THEN DON'T COMPLAIN

To the Editor:

I would like to think that before someone writes a letter complaining about lack of attendance by board members they might get their facts straight. Three planning board members were present at town meeting. Only one spoke addressing the concerns about different ordinances. I was unable to attend because of my job. Other board members may have also had commitments they were unable to change. It is my understanding that there was a question raised at town meeting as to why town or board positions remain open. Perhaps after a person volunteers or her time trying to better or at least maintain this wonderful town we live in, he or she gets tired of complaints from people who decide to sit back and then complain when an ordinance or decision affects them directly.

THANKS, EVERYONE, FOR THE GREAT REBELS RECEPTION

To the Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the area towns, fire departments and police, as well as the Boosters Club and all the people that turned out for a truly outstanding reception for the softball team last Monday night.

The girls were obviously excited about winning the state championship and eager to get home to celebrate. However, the long ride had quieted them some. When we arrived with a police and fire truck escort, the fires were rekindled. As we reached Locke Mills and were met with another police car and three more fire trucks, as well as 30 or more cars, the team was lifted to new heights.

The mile through town with the people lining the streets, the sirens sounding and the kids cheering was another high point of the day. The sparklers that were waved along Main Street added a great deal to the parade.

The reception that followed at school culminated the "greatest day in Telstar softball" with fitting recognition of the team and their accomplishments. What the ladies accomplished on the playing field was an outstanding achievement that was the result of a lot of hard work and effort, the reception and parade that you provided for the young ladies was equally outstanding to them.

I wish to thank each town, organization and individual for the time and effort that went into what will be a truly memorable day in the lives of these young people.

IS NTL ABANDONING THE BASICS FOR JUNK-FOOD MARKETING?

To the Editor:

Many of us in Bethel have had the opportunity to participate in NTL labs. We have also been fortunate in this very rural setting to experience many cultural differences. Where else but in major cities such as New York or Hong Kong would you see Indonesian ladies in their saris, Nigerians in their tribal robes and people from many other countries in their native dress. What a nice experience to communicate with them and listen to their dialects and ideas. We have been fortunate to bring the countries of the world to our doorstep and have grown rich from their presence.

In our small Bed and Breakfast, I have had many questions asked concerning NTL from numerous people around the world because the organization is so well known internationally.

I believe it should continue to be Bethel-based even though it's focus has been changed. Bethel was chosen for its quiet atmosphere at the foothills of the White Mountains. Why can't Bethel still be the quiet, restful atmosphere where researchers in their fields of education can collaborate and have time to make sound decisions away from the ever more stressful world around them?

True, we're living in a fast food world but I sense that NTL's departure is like going from a five-star Waldorf Astoria atmosphere to McDonalds, and I'm not talking about only a physical plant.

Until a few years ago, NTL's courses lasted three weeks and believe me one had the opportunity to really come to grips with one's self through interpersonal growth. (I participated in one of them in the early years.) We learned how to react to conflict, how we perceived our peers and how our peers reacted to us. It was not always pleasant to unearth our weak points but hopefully we grew, from constructive criticism. Obviously, the philosophy behind the teachings of those group meetings proved to be most productive in the corporate and personal world. To get back to my analogy of the Waldorf vs. McDonalds, I'm referring to the original three-week courses vs. the one-week courses as they are today.

Often haste makes waste and I sometimes wonder how the brain can accept such a rapid change in so short of time and then get back to some state of normalcy. I also wonder if quality hasn't been replaced by quantity.

There is so much emphasis on diversity and speed today that I'm afraid that the original concept of values has gotten away from the NTL experience. Let's bring it back.

MOLLYCOKETT DAY PRICES

To the Editor:

I feel this section of the Citizen is the most read, therefore I would like to use this forum to clarify the Bethel Lions Club prices for the booths, Mollycokett Day on the Commons. As printed in the Citizen, page two, June 5; arts and crafts are $35 in open areas and $40 under the main tent. These prices have not changed.

In reference to food booths, the fee is $300 per booth, with the exception of small booths as defined on the Lions' Mollycokett Day forms. All figures and information and forms are available by calling Alan Waterhouse

The Newry resort also won honorable mention in the ski area design competition. at 824-2371, or writing Bethel Lions Club, P.O. Box 314, Bethel, Me., 04217.

In reference to groups and organizations such as Boy/Girl Scouts, Math or Language Clubs, etc., these groups have never been asked to pay fees that are in place, to my knowledge. They may have been asked to make a donation. It is with much of the funds raised on Mollycokett Day, that the Lions Club funds to provide scholarships, eye-care (especially for school age children), and other forms of help within our community.

The purpose of this letter is in response to the person(s) that have been disseminating misinformation in reference to the pricing of booths/space on the Commons. It is the hopes of the Bethel Lions Club, that this misleading information is an honest error and not a deliberate attempt to disrupt a 40-year-plus community event.

This is a Bethel area community event and serves as a fund-raising project for the community service organizations. It is with these funds, that the service organizations provide the needed services within our rural area.

The views of this letter are that of the author, and may not be the views of all Lions Club members. For information on Mollycokett Day you should contact the Lions.

COACHES ARE ON THE BALL

To the Editor:

I would like to thank Brad Wight, Jimmy Young and all the assistants who coached the Bethel Red Sox T-Ball Team. The coaches did a wonderful job and made some small children very happy. FROM THE Bethel Town Office

Due to the several rather comprehensive issues coming into play in the last few weeks, everyone here at Town Office has been pretty busy. Please forgive the brevity of this week's report, but I can hardly write a conclusive statement because things are happening so quickly just now.

No doubt most people have heard by now that the police chief has met with some misfortune. I am sure you will all join me in a heartfelt "Get Well Soon" wish for Chief Dale Bellman. Hospitalized since suffering a heart attack, he will be undergoing surgery this week. His wife and children are very appreciative of the warm thoughts coming their way.

The Department is being run quite smoothly through the cooperative efforts of the two regular officers. I would like to thank all the reserve officers who are pulling together to cover the shifts open due to the chief's absence.

The construction project is moving along. Many of you on Main Street have had your building sewers and drains converted to the new lines. Those of you who haven't should watch the mail for your notification cards. Plans are underway for Mollycokett Day. I know we are all looking forward to the good time to be had at the festival. Look for the new fire truck in the parade.

I would like to wrap up with a thanks to Peter Haines for his many years of service to the town as selectman and a hearty welcome aboard to Norm Putnam.

all over the world. "They're giving away not only a national but an international prize by leaving Bethel," Benne said.

Later, following a meeting with Joseph, Benne was still unconvinced. "He (Joseph) explained the thinking of the board to me, but I don't agree with it," Benne said.

NTL neighbor Dick Rasor, whose Bethel Inn abuts the NTL property, also had a hard time following NTL's logic.

"We do a third of our business with corporate America," Rasor said. "From 50 to 75 companies a year, and when we survey them on what they think of their experience in Bethel, more than 90 percent of them say they want to come back."

Rasor said that 98 percent of the Inn's conference guests responded in the affirmative when asked if they agreed that the situation here was the perfect combination of a "campus-like atmosphere," for getting work done, but with plenty of "appropriate recreation."

Rasor, speaking in a phone interview from Florida, said NTL represents about 5 percent of the Inn's annual business. "In this economy, even replacing 5 percent of your business is difficult," he said, "but the loss won't be as devastating to us as it will be to smaller businesses."

Rasor said he had no interest at this time in purchasing the NTL's real estate in Bethel.

At Sunday's meeting, Lennox said the NTL board had no current plans for the property, but the organization did plan to dispose of it eventually. "At Lennox's urging, Sunday's meeting concluded with a group process, split-up-into-small-groups-and-make-lists exercise."

His suggestion for this classic NTL-type exercise was received warmly by some, but with headshakes and growls by others. A few used the ensuing shuffling as a chance to make quiet exits.

Lennox asked the remaining participants to make three lists: what

EXCELLENT ABUSE SERIES IN SUNDAY JOURNAL

To the Editor:

The Lewiston Sunday Sun-Journal is currently publishing a five part series about domestic violence in Maine. The Sunday staff has spent four months investigating this often hidden issue and their coverage is both in-depth and sensitive. The series highlights the tragedy of violence to women and their children (95 percent to 97 percent of all batterers are male). It also shows the need for community awareness of the existence of this issue and the corresponding need for services to those women and children. Domestic violence is a major cause of concern for the safety and health of our families in the 1990s.

There is help for battered women and their children; in Oxford county the nearest services and shelter is in Auburn through the Abused Women's Advocacy Project (AWAP). The Sun's articles show the many ways this wonderful organization responds to the needs of women in crisis. Support groups, counseling, education, legal advocacy, a shelter, etc., are offered. AWAP provides safety and much needed support for battered women.

The Sun-Journal's reporting is important and comprehensive. It is also timely for our Bethel area. The Bethel Area Health Center strongly supports the meaningful work that AWAP is doing, along with other battered women's projects in the state of Maine. We recognize the significant impact the issue of domestic violence has upon families, on women, on children. Our own project, "Safer Families," is designed to augment already existing services at first and within a year to greatly expand services to battered women in the Bethel and Oxford County areas.

The Sunday Sun-Journal has done an excellent job. Please don't miss their articles.

THANKS FOR THE HELP WITH PROJECT GRADUATION

To the Editor:

I'd like to thank everyone for all your help with 1991 Project Graduation. Everyone that baked, gave us a donation, helped with the cook-out, the ice cream smorgasbord, reception after graduation or went to Portland with the class, please know that your help made it all work. Our trip was a huge success.

I'd like to thank the students and guests for the excellent way they behaved, at the hotel and at Fun Town. You were well mannered, well behaved and did everyone from your homes, school, and mostly yourselves proud.

Thanks again everyone and please continue to support our SAD #44 students and activities.

PEACE BEGINS WITH ME

To the Editor:

Let there be peace on earth, and let it begin with "Me." If each individual can find peace and harmony within oneself, then the petty quarrels between individuals, nations, religions and entire races would fade into history.

If we could only start a movement and get many people to get on the idea. Suddenly everyone would find his own inner peace.

But when? How many wars will be fought? How many children will be gunned down in front of their homes? How many people will die of cancer, AIDS, before this happens?

The religious traditionalist preaching armageddon predict that there is, some day soon, going to be some kind of horrendous holocaust either nature or war-induced, which will purge the world of the unrighteous and will be followed by the appearance of a leader, maybe Jesus Christ himself, and solve the world's problems and bring the planet earth to the state of "Eden."

Instead of depending on some great figure who may or may not appear, we should take responsibility for our own life. This would bring freedom and inner peace. The truth shall make you free.

If we all continue to work together in spite of frustrations posed by the current state of society when enough individual minds are elevated, then it will be global brotherhood.

"Peace is not absence of war. It is a virtue, a state of mind, a disposition for doing good, confidence in justice, being charitable."

they liked about NTL leaving, what they disliked, and what they wished for.

They liked the opportunity to make the town more independent and the chance to work together as a community. One group wrote that, at least in the short term, nothing good would come of the move. Another participant liked the idea of not having to work so hard in the summer.

They disliked: the lost business, making the town even more dependent on skiing, the loss of stimulus and cultural diversity, the disruption of a tradition.

And each of the groups (there were four) came independently to the conclusion that if objected to the process by which the decision had been made and communicated.

They wished for: town officials and others to realize the economic realities of tourism, to have the NTL/Bethel Inn property become "one great resource," to see the area develop into a "Chautauque-style" resort combining entertainment and cultural stimulation, or become "the Athens of Oxford County." Others hoped to see a continued NTL commitment to Bethel.

Another list was passed, and those who were interested in joining a formal task force to continue planning for change signed up. Others who were not at the meeting would also be welcome to join.

The group will meet again on Sunday, at 7 p.m. in the Bethel Inn Conference Center.

THIS WEEK AT THE Moses Mason House

All members and friends of the Bethel Historical Society are reminded that the next monthly meeting will be held on July 4 and feature the annual picnic.

The meeting will be held in the second oldest surviving religious structure in Bethel, the historic East Bethel Church, built about 1830. The picnic will begin at 6 p.m. and held on the East Bethel Church grounds; if the weather is inclement, it will be held inside the building. Lemonade will be served and anyone attending should bring a picnic lunch.

Featured during the program portion of the meeting will be an impersonation of the famed Maine Civil War general Joshua Chamberlain by Charles Plummer, who is well-known for his impersonations of several historical figures.

The program is open to anyone interested. The church borders the East Bethel Cemetery where at least two members of Chamberlain's famed 20th Maine are buried.

The third annual Mason Family gathering will be held on Saturday June 29, beginning at 10 a.m. The day will feature a number of activities including special presentations, genealogical research and a business meeting. Anyone wishing further information should call the Society office at 824-2908 or Elizabeth Mason Carter, at 824-2343.

The Dr. Moses Mason House will open for its 18th summer season on Tuesday, July 2. As usual the museum will be staffed by volunteer guides. An orientation for new guides as well as a refresher for veterans will be held on Wednesday, June 26 at 2 p.m. in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House. Volunteers are always needed. Anyone wishing to be involved in an interesting and exciting activity should call the Society office at 824-2908 or Judy Haskell at 824-2724.

copy of the application draft.

State representative Richard Bennett, R-Norway, whose district includes Greenwood, termed DEP's readiness to approve the license, "really distressing news. I was told unequivocally that they would let me know before they took any action."

Bartlett said McCarthy had repeatedly assured her that "we would know weeks before any decision is made, so that the selectmen and fire department can have input. That's what he told me every time I talked with him."

On Monday of this week (June 24) Bartlett finally received the promised draft—with a cover letter demanding that the town's written comments be received back at the DEP offices in Augusta by Friday, June 28.

She said she planned to take the matter to the town's other two selectmen at their regular meeting Tuesday evening, to see what direction, including possible legal action, the town should take.

She termed the town's dealings with the agency on the tire site, "a horror."

The sole abutter of Gordon's Greenwood site is P.H. Chadbourne Co., which owns woodlands surrounding Gordon's land. Chadbourne forester Don Feeney said the company also received a copy of the license this week and planned to review it and respond.

Feeney said the company had no basic objection to the idea of a tire recycling center, as long as all the tires that went in were to eventually come out. He said the company's main concern was for adequate fire protection at the site, especially during the spring.

Gordon has been using the Rabbit Road site as a tire storage area for two years, without the required permits from the DEP or the town of Greenwood—which in 1988 adopted its own ordinance regulating tire storage/disposal sites.

In February of 1989 the town planning board rejected Gordon's initial application for a town permit. The application has not been resubmitted.

The DEP, however, has been working actively with Gordon since 1986 to get the Greenwood site licensed. Gordon also operates a number of unlicensed sites in and around Albany Township. He has claimed that once the Greenwood site was licensed he would be able to move tires from the unlicensed sites to Greenwood.

The DEP contends that once the tires are at the Greenwood site, the agency would be better able to monitor and enforce Gordon's compliance with state environmental regulations.

DEP initially encouraged and supported Gordon's application, but by last year that approach appeared to have changed. Faced with chronic non-compliance at the Gordon's various sites, the DEP began threatening legal action against his operation.

By year's end McCarthy was describing the situation at the Greenwood site as "intolerable," and "way out of hand, way out of control."

Now, however, the pendulum appears to have swung back, and DEP is once again working to make the site legal.

Gordon recently signed a consent agreement calling for him to reduce the size (footprint) of the Greenwood pile to 10,000 square feet by Nov. 1, 1991, and to begin reducing the size of the two tire piles in Albany. He also paid a fine of $1,500 for violations at the three sites.

The consent agreement is set to go before the Board of Environmental Protection at its July 10 meeting, with a recommendation from the staff that it be approved.

The state Land Use Regulation Commission, which shares oversight responsibility for the Albany sites, signed off on the consent agreement last week.

A license for the Greenwood site is a separate matter from the consent agreement and needs only the signature of the commissioner.

Greenwood selectman Bartlett said that whatever action the state takes, the town will pursue the enforcement of its own ordinance.

Town officials have been holding off on attempting to enforce the ordinance, she said, waiting to see what action the DEP would take.

There has also been debate as to whether the Rabbit Road site is a "recycling" facility, which only requires state approval, or a "disposal" site, which falls under the town ordinance.

Based on a number of site inspections, however, the DEP's own staff concluded that Gordon has operated the site: "in such a manner that although a portion of the scrap tires he receives are recycled through the sale of used tire casings for retreading, or as industrial feedstock, most of the scrap tires have been stockpiled."

Because the stockpiled tires have not been removed periodically for proper disposal, the DEP said, the stockpiles represent disposal, not storage, as defined by Maine solid waste management regulations.

Such a site, Bartlett argued, would be covered by the town's ordinance. And, she said, the town is prepared to go to the state attorney general to have the ordinance enforced.

She conceded, however, that there is no assurance the AG would be eager to pursue the case, which would leave it to the town to decide if it was willing to pay legal costs involved in attempting to make the ordinance stick.

She said the town's concerns with the site were twofold: environmental, especially the danger of a fire, and financial—should Gordon decide to go out of business, she said, "the town gets stuck picking up the tab for the cleanup."

pliments of the Knights of Pythias. Those that are sports minded should enjoy the fly casting contest and the arm wrestling competition. The library invites all to enjoy their book sale and exhibit, while the busy firemen will participate in the Fireman's Muster.

The department will also be serving their chicken barbecue and sponsoring the evening dance with "Leaving City Limits" playing.

A small fee will be charged to tour the Merrill Homestead (Chandler House) throughout the day. There will be the usual flea market, crafts and food on the Common. Spaces are still available for vendor tables and should be reserved by contacting Judy of the Service Circle at 392-1221.

A new attraction this year are sky divers that will be landing on the Little League field at noon. Other events include a dressage demonstration for horse lovers and the raffle drawings

Fortunately, the scan revealed no serious internal injuries, but Jake did suffer fractured ribs and it took more than 70 stitches to close up scalp lacerations caused by the truck tire.

"He's doing well," said King. "Fortunately his injuries were not that severe. We had rescue people on the staff that were able to take care of him until the ambulance arrived."

No charges have been filed in the accident.

tions, services or loan policies between now and the time of the sale, Zand said.

In a press release announcing the sale, spokesmen for both banks pointed to geographical reasons for the deal. Key Bank said it wanted to build its business in northern and western Maine, while Casco Northern said the sale would allow it to focus its resources on markets in central, southern and coastal Maine.

"There are many good business reasons for this purchase," said Key Bank's Molyneux, including a focus on increasing the bank's "commitment and presence in areas that meet our long-term objectives."

Molyneux said Key Bank has been successful in "western and northern Maine and feels these areas warrant additional resources."

A subsidiary of KeyCorp of Albany, N.Y., Key Bank of Maine has consistently been ranked among the state's top-performing big banks. As of Dec. 31, 1990 it listed assets of just under $2 billion. It had a return on assets for the past year of 1.09 percent, the highest return among Maine's billion-dollar-plus banks.

By contrast, Casco Northern Bank, a subsidiary of the trouble-plagued Bank of Boston, had assets of $1.6 billion by year's end but achieved a return on assets of minus 2.5 percent, one of the poorest performances among Maine's major banks.

resolve the long-standing problem with aviation easements over adjoining properties.

But on a somewhat encouraging note, Town—and Airfield—Manager Madeleine Henley said she has been in frequent contact with representatives of the Federal Aviation Administration and hoped to soon see some concrete progress on resolving the easement situation.

But she recommended that if the town were to resolve the FAA situation and to go ahead with improvements at the airfield, that the operation be put out to competitive bid in order to get the best deal possible for the town.

All judges will be from out of town. The committee asks that floats be attractive, interesting or humorous and built strong enough to hold together on a windy day. Floats planning to use the committee's float turn around spot at the end of the parade route should not be more than 12 feet long.

The staging area for the parade will be along the right side of the Gore Road, in front of the American Legion Hall. All floats should be lined up by 10 a.m. sharp. Judging will begin at that time. Awards will be presented before the parade begins at 11 a.m.

Parade Marshal Raymond W. Seames and his assistants will move antique cars and fire trucks between floats as the parade starts to move. The Gore Road will be closed off on the Locke Mills end and the morning of the parade. Anyone in the parade or passing over the Gore Road can detour over Johnny's Bridge.

The parade will end at the Town Hall. The color guards, band, animal drawn floats and antique cars are asked to go in behind the Town Hall.

All motorized floats and fire trucks as asked to turn right up the East Bethel Road. Any wishing to turn around can use Warren Smith's driveway, second drive on the left. If the float is too wide to use the driveway, then it must travel along the East Bethel Road until a wide enough space is found.

The Greenwood Historical Society has many old photos for anyone searching for a float idea. Blaine Mills is available to show them. For any information on floats or the parade call 875-3726 after 4 p.m.

Sunday River's mountain bike park opens for season

Sunday River Skiway's Mountain Bike Park, the first and largest full-service mountain bike park in the east, is slated to open for the season June 29.

With more than 33 kilometers of diverse terrain, including three new routes, the park will operate on weekends and holidays through October 13.

The resort's North Peak Triple chairlift has been fitted with special racks to carry mountain bikes as well as passengers. Lift-served biking is offered to bikers of all abilities, and bikers may also climb to the peak on their bikes.

Biking terrain includes ski trails, old logging roads, and exceptionally challenging single-track riding. From gentle coasting trails, to grueling climbs and steep descents, Sunday River's Mountain Bike Park offers a variety of challenging and relaxing rides.

Two events have been slated for the park. On August 10 and 11, Sunday River has scheduled a Mountain Bike Rough Run. The event is sanctioned by

The following is a list of neighborhood float organizers. Irish neighborhood float organizers, Raymond Harrington, 824-2898; Greenwood City, Ann Holt, 824-2942; Howe Hill, James Johnson, 875-3910; Locke Mills, Ellsworth Hathaway, 874-2259; Rowe Hill, Lynn Barton, 865-2750; Greenwood Center, Betty Hollis, 875-2932; Patch Mountain, the Historical Society, 875-3726; Tubbs District, John Yates, 874-2214; and Bird Hill, Mansfield Packard, 865-2536.

The committee is looking for neighborhood volunteer float organizers in Richardson Hollow, Gorham Hill, Hayes Hill, Young Hill and the Gore Road.

In case of rain the parade will be held July 28. WOXM-FM 92.7 or WTBM-FM 100.7 will announce any postponement. If in doubt about the weather call 875-3726 or 875-2773.

The anniversary committee is also continuing to raise funds for the big day.

The committee's first fundraising goal was to pay all expenses incurred for the celebration. Its second goal was to pay for siding for at least two sides of the town office.

The committee has sold a number of commemorative blackboards for the Locke Mills schoolhouse, which are still available at the town office. The sale of Greenwood T-shirts and chances on "Bart," a huge stuffed bear, have also contributed to the fundraising effort. T-shirts can be purchased from committee members Leah Deegan, 824-2477; Anita Hakala, 527-2294; Marie Bartlett, 875-3561; and Margaret Mills, 875-3726. Then on October 12 and 13, as part of the Fall Festival Weekend, Sunday River will sponsor the American Lung Association bike race. The event is highlighted by a series of competitors sponsored by bike shops throughout the region. The event categories include a criterium, dual slalom, BMX race, and the popular bike rodeo. Both the August and October mountain bike events award prizes of cash and equipment.

Pharmacy & Your Health

David Preble, Prim's Pharmacy Four Ways to Lower Blood Cholesterol

In the past ten years, we have read and heard various reports regarding the negative effects of cholesterol on the body. High blood levels of cholesterol have been associated with coronary heart disease (one of the leading causes of death), stroke, angina pectoris, and leg pain caused by impaired blood circulation.

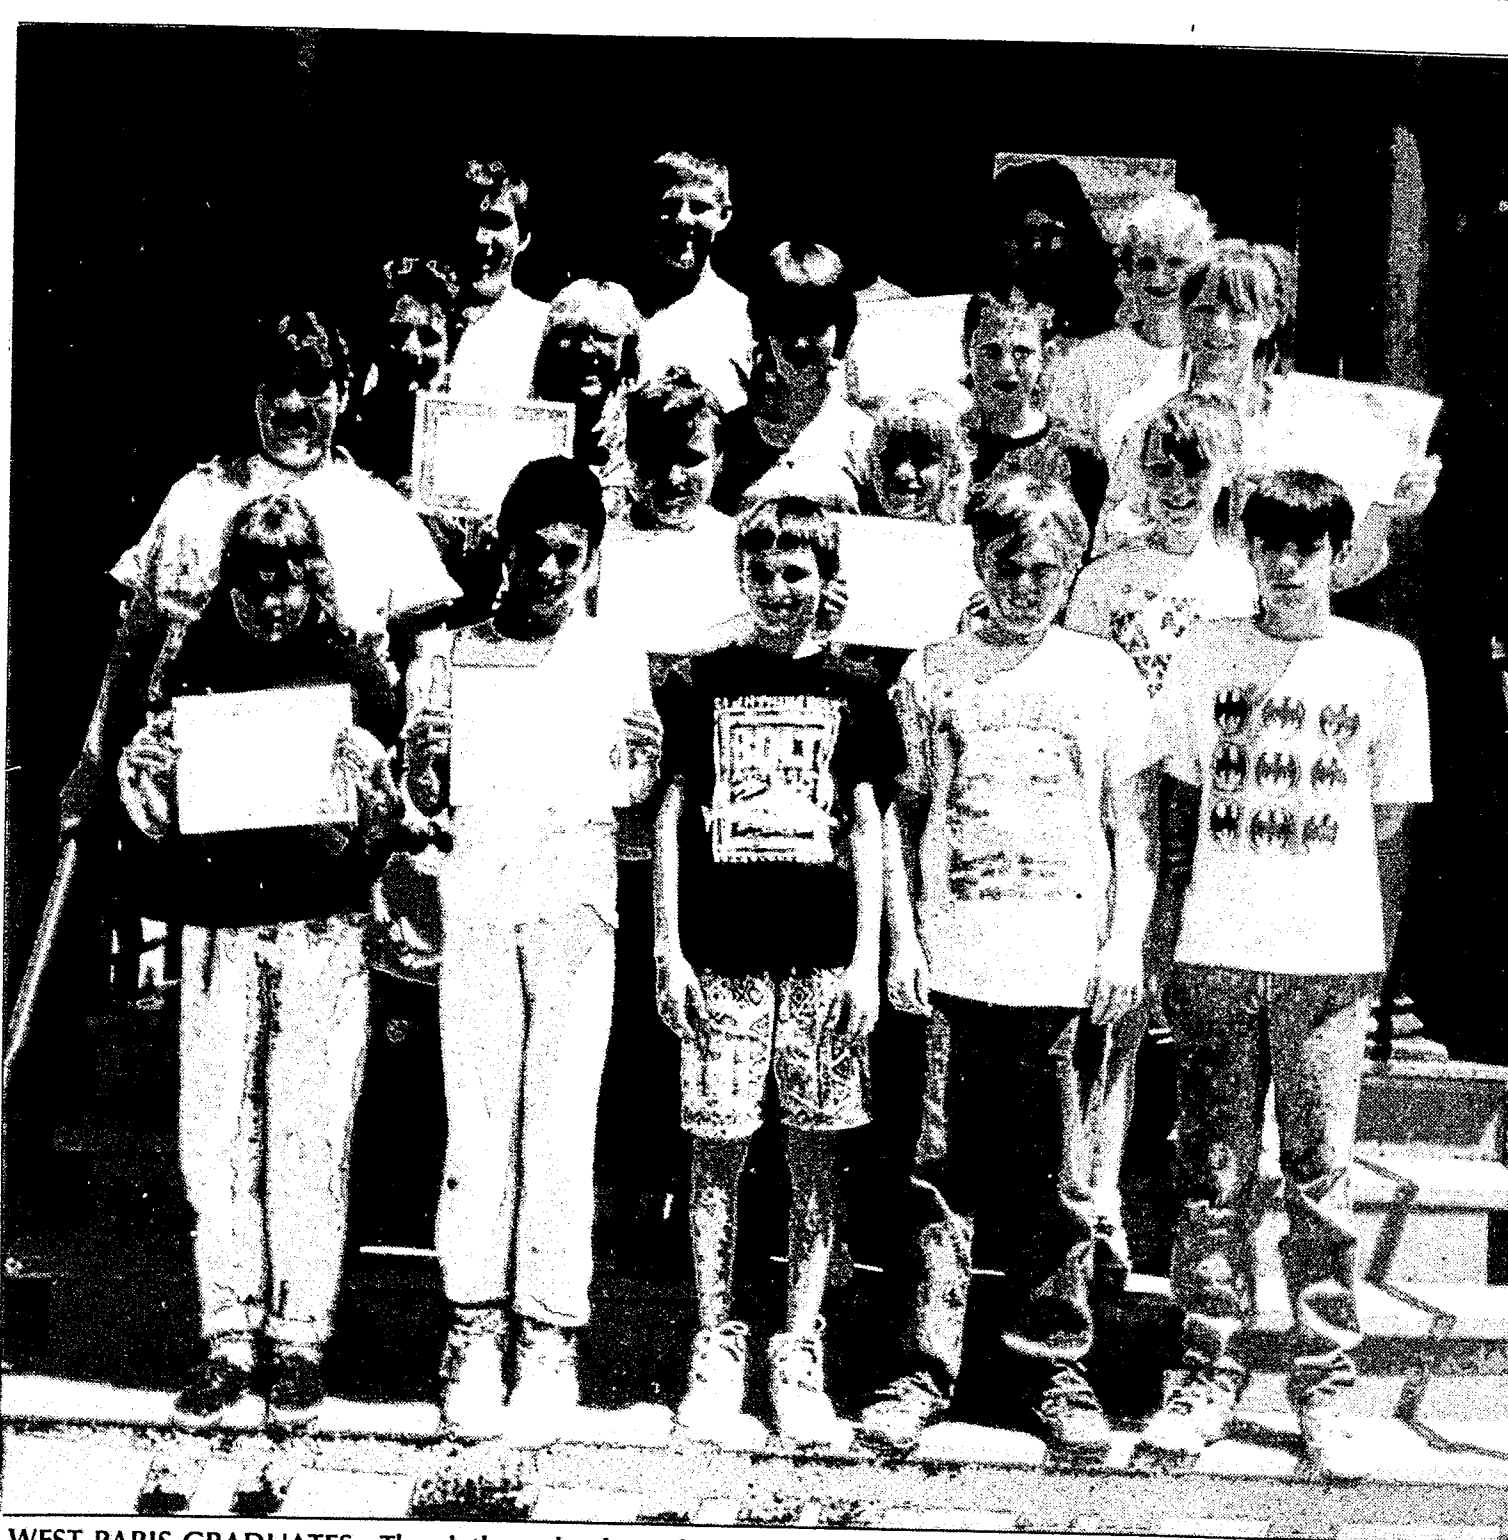

The negative effects of cholesterol are generally associated with LDL (low density lipoprotein) cholesterol, the type of cholesterol that is capable of being trapped in smaller blood vessels. There are four ways of lowering LDL blood cholesterol:

1. Diet: Reduce the amount of cholesterol in the diet by eating less eggs, butterfat, ice cream and organ meats such as liver and kidney. Focus on foods that are high in fiber. Prepare foods by broiling, poaching, steaming, or stir-frying in vegetable oil.

2. Medicines: Prescription medicines are available if dietary measures do not adequately lower blood cholesterol levels.

3. Weight Control: Losing weight (if obese) can lower blood cholesterol levels.

4. Exercise: Vigorous exercise can lower LDL cholesterol and help strengthen the heart.

Awards for overall participation and improvement in physical education went to: Abby Inman, grade two; Joel Martino, grade three; James Braden, grade four; Henry Bindbeutel, grade five; and Dewayne Alford, grade six.

The art teacher, Mrs. Constant, chose more than one from each class as outstanding in art: Loren Dembski and Stanley Hill, grade two; Jessica Skinner and Heather Theofrastou, grade three; Charlene Billings, Johanna Farrar and Melissa Skinner, grade four; Henry Bindbeutel, Jeannine Dembski and David Stearns, grade five; Emily Cole, Jason Hill and Jason Eastman, grade six.

Betty Maglione, who is in charge of our cafeteria, presented awards to each sixth-grader for helping in the cafeteria all year. She also added her thanks to the fifth- and third-graders who substituted occasionally when the sixth-graders were away.

Awards for excellence in conduct, which meant no tickets all year long, and for which we hope all students strive towards, went to: Loren Dembski, Libby Doughty, Tami Rosenberg, Juanita Toothaker, grade two; Rebecca Chase, Jessica Farrar, grade three; Charlene Billings, James Braden, Jamie Cole, Audrey Inman, grade four; Jeannine Dembski, Amanda Herrick, Faith Lovejoy, Casey Mack, David Stearns, grade five; Katie Buehl, Hope Lovejoy and Kim Pearson, grade six.

mond, David Stearns, Crystal Grubb, Kim Kangas, Erin Doughty, grade five; Leon Billings, Amy Boutiller, Emily Cole, and Katie Buehl, grade six.

One of the most difficult awards for the classroom teacher to choose is for the student who has worked hard and shown the most improvement over the school year. Children learn and their behavior matures, and it is difficult to choose only one. Even choosing two as most of us did this year is a challenge. We look back at the others and say they've come a long way also! However, Mrs. Perham gave her most improved award to Bruce Adkins and Tobey Shattenberg; Mr. Barker chose Rebecca Chase and Misty Coffin; Mr. Litchfield chose Derek Emery and Vernon Inman, Mrs. Clements chose Faith Lovejoy and Marc Pawlowski and Mr. Koch chose Alicia Coolidge.

Mr. Koch also presented one special award, the Principal's Award to a student who has shown responsibility, excellent work habits, and a lot of school spirit. He presented this award to a sixth-grader, Hope Lovejoy.

Mr. Grigsby, our home school counselor, presented his annual Humanitarian Award to a student who has shown the outstanding qualification of caring for others and for herself. This award went to Katie Buehl.

Mr. Koch presented awards from last year and this year for outstanding assessment test given to all fourth-graders. Current fifth-graders who received their awards from last year were: Henry Bindbeutel in reading; and Edwin Van Bibber-Orr in mathematics; fourth-grader Justin Bonney, received an award for mathematics also. Well done, boys.

Sixth-graders who received certificates in honor of their last year at Agnes Gray School were: Dewayne Alford, Leon Billings, Amy Boutiller, Katie Buehl, Chad Chase, Amey Coffin, Emily Cole, Alicia Coolidge, Joshua Dunham, Jason Eastman, Timothy Farrar, Shannon Farris, Jason Hill, Hope Lovejoy, Jonathan Morgan, Kim Pearson, Scott Pawlowski, Angie Waterhouse and Karen Yates. Congratulations and lots of good wishes for a successful junior high and senior high career.

We ended our assembly with a presentation of a T-shirt to those volunteers who have donated much of their time to our schools. This was followed by coffee, punch and desserts after school in the library. Those receiving our gratitude, as well as T-shirts were: Michelle Blake, Sid Hollowell, Dottie Farrar, Debra Knight, Carol Hall, Tracey McCann, Corrine Hammond, Elaine Newell, Dixie Inman, Jean Richards, Lisa Beebe, Barbara Shead, Fran Alexander, Nancy Robertson, Tania Jones, Dorise Emery, Betty Maglione, Doreen Brough and Eileen Mowatt.

Our last day of school was spent cleaning out desks, saying goodbye, and checking out the annual softball game with the sixth-graders playing against the faculty and parent volunteers. Even though it's getting Another school year is over, and this will be the last column until September. On Monday our annual Awards Assembly was held in the gymnasium. This assembly is to formally say good-bye to the sixth-graders, to honor our students, and to show appreciation to our parent volunteers.

Mr. Koch welcomed everyone, and our supervising principal, Mr. Garrow spoke a few words. The school chorus, made up of fourth-, fifth- and sixth-graders sang one song, and then the awards were presented to students from grades two through six.

Mr. Barker presented an award to the student who showed the most interest, enthusiasm and improvement in music. Honors went to Stanley Hill, grade two; Eric Thorpe, grade three; Brandt West, grade four; David Stearns, grade five; and Katie Buehl, grade six.

Burglaries

stop a motor vehicle for a minor traffic violation on First Ave.

When the car was finally pulled over about a mile away on Mink Street, there were three suspects in it. According to Berlin police, however, the driver fled into the woods, but the remaining two suspects were apprehended in the vehicle.

One was identified as Christina West of Littleton, N.H. but the second remained unidentified. Police arrested him as John Doe.

After Plourde received back-up, a quick search of the area did not locate the driver of the vehicle, who still remains at large.

Several items observed in the vehicle appeared to be stolen. Berlin police said in a news release. Listed in the release as recovered were a camera, camcorder, satellite dish receiver, television, three loaded handguns and a large quantity of what appeared to be a controlled substance.

Christina West was arrested for possession of a controlled drug, hindering apprehension and receiving stolen property. She remains in Grafton County Jail in Haverhill, N.H.

John Doe was arrested for receiving stolen property and possession of a controlled drug. He is in Coos County Jail in Stewartstown, N.H.

Several police departments are cooperating in investigating the case. In New Hampshire, Grafton, Berlin, Littleton and state police are working together, along with Bethel police and other Maine and Vermont departments.

Berlin Col. Jean LeBlanc said, "this is going to be a long case because of the rash of burglaries in Maine, N.H. and Vt." He said police suspect that the several burglaries in those states were conducted by the same people.

BETHEL POLICE STILL URGE RESIDENTS TO TELL THEM WHEN HOMES WILL BE EMPTY

Although the suspects arrested in Berlin, N.H. have been linked to a rash of burglaries in Bethel, police here are still urging vacationing homeowners to file house-watch forms.

Patrolman Tripp recommended that homeowners notify police when houses are left unoccupied for any amount of time.

"We'll leave it up to the individual to decide when to contact us," Tripp said. "We'll do it for a day or a week. Usually people file forms when they'll be gone for extended periods of time."

House-watch forms are kept on file at the police office and are confidential, he said.

"All we need is for them to come in or call us and we'll fill out a simple form," Tripp said, "stating where they can be reached, who is authorized to be in the house, the time of departure and return."

Keeping the house watch forms on file helps police schedule patrolling.

"We'll check on properties as many times as we can," Tripp said.

Police are also urging people to report any suspicious activity, such as strange cars in the driveway of a vacant house.

"We may check it out and find out if somebody's long lost nephew," Tripp said, "but that one time that somebody does call and it's a burglary—then we've got somebody in jail."

Newry supper raises money to rebuild burned-out home

Over $800 was raised to benefit Norman and Eleanor Davis at a public supper held Saturday.

The Davises' Newry home burned three weeks ago.

Members of the Newry Mother's Club and the Newry Fire Auxillary sponsored the benefit supper.

Donating supplies and/or food for the supper were the Bethel IGA, Red Top Truck Stop, Mother's, Prim's, Shop 'n Save, McDonald's, Sunday River Ski Resort and several local residents.

A fundraiser is also under way to benefit the Davises with a porcelain doll and bird carving offered as prizes. Tickets are available from Lorretta Berry, Prim's Pharmacy; Terri Littlehale, Bethel Savings Bank; and Nancy Wight, Maine Line Products.

Due to recent break-ins in town, there will be no further bowling news! There will be no news either about who is at camp.

Other news this week is better! Our "super chief" went over the Davis fire with us at this last meeting. With the exception of five members, the rest of us depend on the "super five" for leadership, and we have some excellent leadership with Tink, at least I think so! In total, there are 442 town fire departments in the state. Oxford has 88 fire departments! Sagadahoc has nine and Penobscot has 49. This does not include the military, state forestry, or private business like mills. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hunter of Trafton, Penn., are visiting Willard and Sylvia Wight this week, June 16-22 or so.

The Newry Ladies Circle enjoyed a lunch and slide show on wild flowers also this week. I stayed home to do some chores.

There will be on July 9 the County Republican meeting at the Sunday River Fire House. All those who go will be contacted about time.

Wee Willie—I'm on the job with your camp, we too have two legged squirrels like you do in Massachusetts. Got Boston channels last night; your pbs (2) (5) and (7).

Now that I have changed the subject, I will be conducting the worship service at the West Parish Congregational Church on June 30. The form of the service will be the same as usual. Since this is the last Sunday before the 4th, be prepared for a patriotic sermon or message!

By this time, all chiefs in Oxford county should have gotten a letter from me on the "Fireman's Equipment Exchange" that has my address.

Two more items: Freda Robertson is back from Santa Rosa, Calif., where she visited her sister-in-law.

The Newry Ladies Circle will meet on the 27th to eat at Errol. Contact Sylvia Wight for details!

Congratulations to the Telstar Rebels for winning the State Class C Softball championship.

Myra Foster spent the weekend of June 14-17 with her daughter, Clara Hamlin in Waterford.

Charlene Haines and Peggy Coolidge went strawberry picking in Denmark on June 15. They got soaking wet, but were back home before noon with all the strawberries they wanted. James Haines received the highest math award for the entire fourth grade in SAD #44.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cochran of Newcastle, Penn., visited at the Bartlett homestead on June 15. Mr. Cochran was looking for help with the Cochran family history.

Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Conroy of Auburn and their granddaughter, Lauren Conroy of Bethel, visited at the Bartlett home on June 16.

Ken Mason and Quentin Tyler entered the Three Rivers Sportsmans Club Androscoggin River Race on June 15. They came home with the first place trophy. The race was a rough and tough 12 miles. Their winning time was two hours and six minutes, 50 seconds faster than the second place boat.

Vertie Mason underwent surgery on June 17 in Norway. Nothing was found and hopefully she will be home soon.

Alder River Grange held an open meeting on June 14 with 25 people attending. Worthy Deputies Lewis and Myrtle Bisbee of Oxford; Worthy Deputy Connis Tuttle of New Century and several state officers were present. Rodney Howe and Mellen Kimball were honored with 55 year certificates and seals. The next meeting will be election of officers July 12.

Stacy and Jennifer Bean and Arlene Harrington were in Durham on June 14 to watch Heather Hallman graduate from nursery school. Caps and gowns were worn by all and a short speech given by all.

George and Dolly Olson made a shopping trip to North Conway, N.H. on June 15.

Barbara Olson almost hit a bear on Capen Hill the week of June 10. Her dog had a fit and wanted to get out and give chase. Kelly Vascik has also had bear problems lately. One has been raiding her trash cans.

Gena Morgan, daughter of Kelly Vascik, graduated from Telstar and plans to attend the University of Maine at Orono in the fall.

Alexander Pope wrote "Hope springs eternal in the human breast." So what is hope?

Hope is like the sun upon the threshold of the heart, a glow inside, as we venture into another day. We are forced to take the road alone out toward the horizon.

Hope is the word we live by; use each moment wisely for it will soon pass away.

There are two days of the week about which I never worry. One of these is "Yesterday." Yesterday with all its cares, pains and blunders are forever beyond my reach to recall. And the other day I do not worry about is "Tomorrow." Tomorrow with its burdens and perils is far beyond reach of my mastery. I may never see tomorrow but there is a hope to live by.

Hope is confidence and expectation. Hope is a guide to good cheer and happiness. Hope brings light into darkness.

With the passing years, life gets frayed and thin, touched with sadness, like a muted violin but there is one golden string that does not break; the string of hope. We play upon it with fresh faith, the music of the soul.

Hope is like the robin singing on a rainy day; he knows the sun will shine again.

Hope is looking forward with an honest belief. Think of it as a promise of a new dawn. There's strength where there's hope.

Hope is looking forward to something and I like to think of it, as an expectancy of light, when still in darkness. It helps me to wait for strength to return, to climb each difficult high slope, for through grief it may be spent.

Love and friendship, joy and sorrow are the strings on which I play. Let us keep hope in our hearts.

Rena, Albert and Marie Curtis have enjoyed a couple of trips.

Another Sunday came and I was at the farm with the Hols; Leonas, Fay, David, Sally and Mary as well as other callers.

The rain didn't discourage Milton and Eleanor Imman. They spent the week end at their camp "Maplewood."

The Forgets were at their camp with several guests.

The Greenwood Fire Department has announced the monthly regular meeting on the first Wednesday has been cancelled for the month of July and August.

The Greenwood Historical Society meeting scheduled for July 3, has been postponed a week and will take place Wednesday, July 10 at 7:30 p.m.

Lee and Mary Mills quietly observed their 55th wedding anniversary Wednesday, June 19 at their home.

Lorraine Mills and Gerry Shimamura were in Rumford Thursday afternoon visiting Linda Hughes at her home in the Brick Park.

There were nine ladies from the Locke Mills Union Church attending the slide presentation and luncheon put on by the Andover Congregational Church ladies, Wednesday morning. They were Charlotte Cole, Ruth Cox, Hope Edwards, Marion Swan, Helen Chase, Edna Cole, Vera Cross, Gladys Jordan, and Sylvia Dunham. There were 91 in attendance. The ladies from Praise Assembly of God were invited which was nice. However, it just didn't work out for anyone to attend except for Nettie Fitzpatrick who lives in Andover.

younger than I am. He also visited Lee Mills, on Wednesday for their regular cribbage game. They play three times a week I'm told.

The Locke Mills Union Church plans to hold its strawberry festival on the 6th of July. Keep this date in mind please.

Charlotte Cole had the program Thursday for the Oxford Senior Citizens at the Legion Hall in Oxford. Helen Chase went with her. Then she went to Ledgeview to play and finished off the day fishing. She caught a whopper of a horned pout.

Mary Mills' cousin Beatrice Eames from Falmouth visited her on Wednesday. She returned to her home Friday after visiting Carl and Lettie Brooks for two weeks. Also on Wednesday, Mary's former pupil when she taught on Patch Mountain, Betty Lord from Bryant Pond, came to visit.

Gerry Shimamura and Lorraine Mills attended the visiting hours for Mary Chadbourne Thursday evening while John visited Joe at the Shimamura home. Both Gerry and I worked at the Chadbourne home babysitting and helping with the housework when we were teenagers and of course, we were classmates of Phyllis and Ted so it was a sad occasion for us although it was good to see the family again after so many years. It's too bad that it takes an occasion such as this to bring old friends together but it seems often to be the case. Mary and Phil were always very good to the neighborhood children and we will miss her sweet smile and gentle nature and all the lovely attributes that made her such a gracious lady. The Locke Mills Church Sunday school has closed for the summer. Awards were given to: Kelly Rosenberg, Eli Young, Michelle Deegan, Jay Melville, Danny Stevens, Naomi Young, Jennie Stevens, Rebekah Howe, Alyssa Howe, Keith Stevens, Dustin Howe, and Crystal Chase. Certificates were given to Nick and Dan Smith, Jim Haines, Jaime Johnson, Mariah and Tim Seames, Hana and Will Seames and Jenni Whitman.

On Thursday, June 20th Ted and Donna Downs celebrated their anniversary by taking her mother, Elvira Littlehale to Amanda Dunham's birthday party. Amanda had 18 children as her guests besides both of her grandparents, her own parents and parents of some of the attending children. A cook-out was grilling by her dad Brian, and ice cream and birthday cake was served later. Amanda is the seven year old who is in a body cast. She is in relatively good spirits after her long ordeal. When she broke her hip this winter on her swing set she first had to spend five weeks in traction with a pin in her knee. Then she came home for six weeks in a body cast and spent most of that time in bed. She had her cast removed and was learning to walk again. After two and a half weeks she was riding her bike but fell and broke her hip a second time. This time she spent a week in a walking cast but the doctor found her hip was not healing properly. She then was re-admitted into the hospital and operated on to put a plate in her hip for firmer support and to promote healing. Now she is in another body cast for six more weeks. We hope everyone will come to see Amanda at her dance benefit on June 29 at the West Paris Grange Hall. The Richard Felt Band will be providing the music, West Paris Grange providing the hall and all who wish may bring along home made pies for intermission and for sale to help Amanda's folks pay her medical expenses.

A moose visited Lorraine and John Mills and Vera Cross one morning this past week. They are pretty but I like something substantial between me and them!

Upton

By ARLINE BERNIER

Bob Brown and Laurie French got married Saturday, June 15, in Bethel with their children, Angie Brown, Benjamin French and Joseph Bergeron, attending. Sunday they held a reception in Upton where a large group of family and friends gathered.

Elsie Douglass is staying at her Upton home with her son, Nelson, and Terry for the summer months.

A neighbor brought us some freshwater salmon as he'd enjoyed lots of successful fishing. Because I asked, he told me how to cook them, but since I was out of onions, I substituted chunks of apples, which had wintered in my cellar. The salmon would have been great by itself, but apple cooked in the same sauce and foil wrap added to the super meal.

Not a very sunny morning to start the week out but the week-end wasn't that good either. Cloudy and rainy on Saturday and yesterday certainly would be put down as a rainy day around here. The gardens needed a good drink of water and they have gotten it so it should help a lot.

Thursday was the day that Peggy went to West Bethel to visit with her daughter Loretta and they went to see the dancers perform there in Bethel. She said it was real good, but was surprised to get home and find the power off. It had been off since twenty minutes of four and this was about seven-thirty or a little later. Anyway, it soon came on and we were glad to have it as I wondered how long the freezer would go without harm to the food. It is not that full anymore so needs the power to keep it cool. The wind that day had raised havoc in many places and we were told that the power was out in many places.

Went down to visit Tom on Friday evening and played cards. He is always ready to play cards or cribbage of a Friday evening. Goes golfing and bowling quite a lot for exercise and to while away the days.

Russell and Peggy took Charlotte Cole with them and went to Union to the meeting of the flags on Saturday. They left about nine in the morning and didn't get home till about five in the afternoon. They had never been in Union before and the program was held at a school there in the gym so they had a large area to work in but they said with all the organizations represented, the hall was quite full. They brought home a program and I had a chance to look it over but it seemed like it would have been nice to see. They got a quick lunch and headed home as Charlotte had a supper she wanted to attend that night and had to be home by six. I puttered around the house that day and did some cleaning but sure need to do lots more.

On yes, Friday late afternoon, Richard Felt called in for a little as he was bringing the staves and flag for them to use in Union.

Saturday evening, Peggy came down and we played trionines during the evening. Russell wasn't up to going dancing so neither of them went.

In talking with Mary Lovejoy I found they had a couple of moose visit them the other day and stayed around for twenty to thirty minutes. She said they were yearlings and didn't seem to be afraid at all. Just stood and looked around so they had a chance to really get good views of them.

She has had company as usual and didn't remember who or when but glad they came to visit.

Don't forget the dance on the 29th of June at the West Paris Grange Hall to benefit the little Dunham girl who has broken her leg twice in a row and in the same place. Hopefully she is gaining and will get well and not break it again.

Things sure look good in the garden even though some of the seeds have had to be planted over, whether it was dry soil or the seed wasn't as good as it should have been. At the cost of it, it should be guaranteed to grow. Take care one and all and have a good week ahead.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Andrews took dinner with their aunt Olive Davis on Wednesday noon. Arthur worked all the time he was here.

Ruth Barnett and daughter Zella Morse called on me on June 12. They brought me some belated birthday gifts to enjoy. How I appreciate all my thoughtful friends. Everyone has been so kind to me. Many, many thanks to all of you. May you all have dear friends around you when you need company.

David Clements of Elkton, Maryland visited his parents Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Clements. They all went to Belfast to see grandparents.

Esther and Olive Davis attended the Universalist picnic held at Olga Gellatly's home Sunday noon. There was a large attendance. The service was held on the porch beforehand and then each picked where they wanted to eat and proceeded to do just that. A social hour was enjoyed.

Olive and Esther Davis called on Bertha Benoit Sunday afternoon.

Sunday was a cold day and very uncomfortable.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Andrews called Saturday p.m. on their Aunt Olive.

The Willing Workers met on June 5 at the Willing Workers building to bring general business up to date. A meeting is scheduled for August 8 at the community building. Next meeting is July 3 there also, see you then.

Basil Seguin donated some items to the Historical Society collection. The museum is open on Saturday all summer. A flea market will be held June 29 all day and a food sale is planned at the beach in Locke Mills July 18. Mary Billings and Kathleen Bean will be in charge of the sale. The town manager is scheduled to speak at the July meeting.

Olive Davis was a guest at the fire party held at Lettie Brooks, old home on Curtis Hill July 11. There were 15 members present who came to fix the fire tips which will be used to make pillows to be sold to be placed on beds etc. to give a healthy odor to your homes during the Universalist Church sale later this year. Those attending were Olga Gellatly, Cynthia Lamb, more difficult every year, the faculty did maintain its record and remains undefeated. The cheering from the underclassmen was divided about evenly between the two teams.

Tuesday evening the faculty and staff held a final meeting, referred to as our Spring Fling, at the home of Judy and Ken Loper. We enjoyed a meal together, and said our goodbyes to Ms. Sandra Verkuille and Ms. Catherine Patterson who are getting married and leaving us before fall. We presented them with a gift from Perham's Maine Mineral store, so they will remember us and West Paris. We also presented a special gift to Eileen Mowatt who has volunteered in our school everyday all year long. She does anything and everything we ask and we appreciate her service. Thanks again to all. We've had a good year.

NEWS FROM

Adult Education

The SAD #44 Adult Community Education program will offer adults seeking educational opportunities several summer options to upgrade their skills, earn a high school diploma or explore life-long learning options. Programs will run from June to mid-August and will include:

GED: To earn a GED/High School Equivalency diploma, adults may enroll at an Adult Learning Center to prepare for the exam. The Center at Telstar is open on Wednesday nights from July 3 to August 14 from 6-9. GED services are provided in Andover on a tutorial basis. There is no charge for the GED test or for preparation.

Adult High School Diploma: To earn a Telstar High School diploma through adult education classes offered in the fall and spring terms, adults may take classes in the evening, or work on their own with an instructor through the External Credit Option, getting a headstart, and partial credit for the brush-up classes this summer. Credits earned are added to those earned in high school. Credits are also awarded for military service and for work experience including home-making.

Those interested should call the Adult Education Office, 824-2780, and make an appointment to discuss their best options. New students should call early to schedule a time on June 24 or July 1 before the start of summer classes.

Individual Tutoring for Reading, Writing and Math: One-to-One tutoring is available at school, community or home locations for adults. All tutoring is free and confidential. Call 1-800-322-5455, or 824-2780.

Adult Guidance Services: For those considering a change of career, looking for a better job, or thinking of entering the world of work outside of home. SAD #44 has an excellent range of adult guidance services. Although the guidance program is not fully staffed in the summer, it is possible to make use of the resource materials about job-hunting, including resume preparation, and educational opportunities. CareerSearch is an individual program of career exploration which combines many of the adult guidance resources. CareerSearch takes approximately 10 hours over several weeks and has been helpful to over 70 area residents over the past three years in identifying new directions in work or future education. Merrill Bittner is the counselor. Those interested may call 824-2780 to reserve a place on the fall schedule.

Refresher English: An individual approach to assist adults in improving their writing skills. Students will make use of computer-based instruction to review grammar and vocabulary, and will have the opportunity to practice writing skills. Karen Bean will be the instructor for this class which will meet on Tuesday nights from July 2 to August 13 from 6-9 at Telstar.

Refresher Math Lab: Fractions, decimals, percents, and word problems are some of the topics which bring students to this class. Students will focus on areas of individual need at their own pace. Steve Bies is the instructor on Thursday nights, from June 27 to Aug. 15 from 6-9.

Pre-Algebra and Algebra 1: This class meets simultaneously with the Math Lab on Thursday nights, and allows students to progress into Algebra.

GED Clinic: Practice testing, preparation for the high school equivalency exam, and testing. Join the class of 1992 by getting started this summer. Karen Bean is the instructor on Wednesday nights, 6-9, starting July 3. No charge for preparation or testing.

Introduction to Computers: Linda Davis provides a basic grounding in the use of a personal computer using Apple IIe computers and an introduction to some of the tasks a computer can perform, including word processing. This class is for the beginner, and a great chance to put your "computer phobias" to rest. The class will meet on Mondays and Tuesdays, July 15 and 16, 22 and 23 from 6:30-8:30 at Telstar $15.

Business Skills: NOVA's popular program will be offered this summer at Telstar with Joyce Perkins on Thursday from 5:30-8:30, starting June 27 for 7 weeks. Modules are available in Keyboarding, Office Procedures, and Word Processing (Word Perfect 5.0 or Professional Write). Students may work on more than one module during the course—the style of instruction is tutorial and you will work at your own pace. Please indicate modules desired when you register. $15.

Community CPR: Training in infant, child and adult cardiopulmonary resuscitation for those who wish to learn this life-saving technique, or who need renewal. Jeannine Thornton at the Bethel Area Health Center on Thursday, July 25 and August 2, 6-9, $15.

First Aid: The Red Cross Multimedia Standard course (which includes adult CPR) with Jeannine Thornton on Thursday, July 11 and 18, 6-10, at the Bethel Area Health Center. $25.

Wood Carving: A Folk Art Santa Claus figure is the project—a great way to get a head start on Christmas. Beginners and veterans are welcome to learn the art of carving from Mike Murphy. The class will meet on Tuesdays, starting July 2, from 6:30-9:30 for 7 weeks. Lab fee $15. To enroll in SAD #44 Adult and Community Education courses call 824-2780. The office is open Monday through Thursday afternoons and evenings, and the answering machine may also be used for enrollment.

Telstar science teachers go to summer school

Two Telstar High School science teachers will be spending part of their summer vacation back in the classroom—but on the other side of the desk.

Richard Roy, a biology teacher, will be attending a three week summer program at the Foundation For Blood Research in Scarborough, Maine.

The program is sponsored by the National Science Foundation, and Mr. Roy will be studying immunology. The goal of this institute is to incorporate the teaching of immunology into the classroom, and Mr. Roy plans to do this with his senior advanced biology course.

Tim Kersey, a physics and chemistry teacher, will be attending a two-week summer session at Miami University of Ohio. Mr. Kersey has been selected as one of 25 educators nationally to participate in this National Science Foundation program to enhance the teaching of chemistry.

The goals of the Institute for Chemical Education (ICE) are to provide an opportunity to practice, refine, and share demonstrations and hands-on science activities that can be introduced into elementary and middle school classes. Mr. Kersey hopes to share his experience with SAD #44 teachers and other mentors throughout New England.

A week in the life of HILLARY HARRISON

Summer is here! School is out! Now what could go wrong? I started my summer job, babysitting four to five days a week. I babysit two girls, one who is eight years of age and going into the third-grade, the other is three years old. I don't think that I will get too sick of this job because the kids are so busy.

Last Friday I went to the dance recital that Sue Farrar puts on every year. This year the play was "Babes in Toyland," and it was very entertaining.

Also last week I went to a Rotary meeting with my mom. It started off with a very scrumptious breakfast followed by some Rotary business.

One of my favorite things was when they passed around a can and if something wonderful happened to them that week they put a dollar in the can and told everyone about their experience. They call it the "Happy Dollars." Have a great week!

KEITH CLANTON GRADUATES FROM BROWN UNIVERSITY

Keith Wayne Clanton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Clanton of Bethel, received a Bachelor of Science from Brown University in Providence, R.I. Brown, the nation's seventh oldest college, awarded 1,519 baccalaureate and 549 advanced degrees at its 223rd commencement May 27.

Brown President Vartan Gregorian presided at ceremonies in the First Baptist Meeting house, where degrees were awarded, and later on the College Green, where family and friends could participate. Clanton and his classmates heard orations by two fellow graduates: Tracy Robert, whose oration was entitled "On Leaving the World of Safe," and Suzanne Rivera, who spoke on "Notes from a Stranger in Paradise."

Clanton received his degree for work in Engineering.

STACIE BEAN AWARDED HANNAFORD SCHOLARSHIP

Stacie Bean of Bethel has received a scholarship from the Hannaford Brothers Co. retail scholarship program.

Bean graduated from Telstar High School on June. She plans to attend Champlain College in Burlington, Vt. this fall where she will major in Early Childhood Education. During high school she was on the yearbook staff and a member of marching band and the track team.

Stacie is daughter of Wayne and Wilma Bean, deli manager of the Shop 'n Save on Lincoln Avenue in Rumford.

LOCAL STUDENTS NAMED TO BATES DEAN'S LIST

Four local Bates College students were named to the dean's list for the past semester.

Dean of students Celeste Branham named to the dean's list Monika E. Burk, Newry, daughter of Fredrick and Rosemarie Burk; Kurt R. Crandall, Bethel, son of Richard and Carole Crandall; Tanya M. Corrin, Bryant Pond, daughter of Dennis Corrin; and Traci L. Higgins, Locke Mills, daughter of Carroll and Sharon Higgins.

LOCAL STUDENTS NAMED TO DEAN'S LIST AT USM

Four area students at the University of Southern Maine, Gorham have been named to the dean's list.

They are Deborah Bethel and Thaddeus Wheeler, Bethel; Jane Chandler Woodstock and Peter MacGregor of West Paris.

Rebel softball players named MVC all-stars

Four of Telstar softball team members have been chosen for Mountain Valley Conference all-star teams. First team selection went to Stacie Kangas, who compiled a 12-4 regular season record. Stacie pitched 104 innings during the regular season, striking out over 100 and walking only 23. She threw two no-hitters during the season.

Catcher Danielle Bernier was also selected to the first team—she batted .415 for the year and was a stand-out defensively. In the play-offs, she dominated during the Western Maine Championship game against Saco Valley—throwing two girls out and nabbing another at the plate.

Second team selection went to first baseman Kris Delano—a three-year starter and the team's lead-off hitter. Kris led the team in hitting with a .500 average, scoring 25 runs and playing excellent defense for the Rebels.

Shilo Hutchins was also selected as a second team All-star. Playing the outfield and committing no errors during the year, Shilo was also the number-two hitter on the team. She batted .388 and was one of the better batters on the team.

All-state selections were announced Sunday, June 22, and Stacie Kangas and Kris Delano were chosen first team All-State pitcher and first base respectively. Stacie led the team to the state championship by allowing only six runs and 12 hits during the four play-off games. Kris led the team with her hitting and defense.

Selected to the All-state second team was outfielder Shilo Hutchins. An excellent defensive outfielder, Shilo had two hits and scored two runs in the state championship games.

Erika Dresser joining Peace Corps in Africa

Erika Dresser has left Bethel for a two-year stint with the Peace Corps in Cameroon.

After completing training in West Africa, Dresser will work as a chemistry, physics and biology teacher in Cameroon.

She was originally scheduled to leave Bethel on June 5, but a national strike in Cameroon held up the trip, she said.

Dresser left for Africa on June 20 from Philadelphia, Pa. with other Peace Corps volunteers. She arrived in Paris the next day. Her mother, Elaine, said Erika was scheduled to arrive in Africa on last Saturday.

Dresser, a Bethel native, graduated from Colby College in 1990 with a degree in biology and environmental science. Her parents are Duane and Elaine Dresser of Gould Academy.

Animal control of money," Bartlett said. But Charles Lander, owner of Allen Hill Kennels, said the service that the kennel provides goes beyond picking up stray dogs.

He said Larrabee often responds to complaints where no dog can be found roaming. He also said that some people who complain about roaming dogs are often hesitant to sign a complaint against a neighboring dogowner.

"We're told that the dog next door is running. We come up and it's sitting on its own property. We can't do anything unless the dog is running. Most neighbors are not willing to sign a statement that a dog is running and go to court. They blame the dog officer because the dog officer's not doing his job. He would if he'd get the backing," Lander said.

Lander also noted that part of Larrabee's job is to serve notice to dog owners whose dogs are uncensored. That can be anywhere from 20 to 200 dogs per town, he said.

Other complaints the animal control officer must respond to include cows and horses in the roadway, Lander said. "You never get credit for these kind of complaints," he said. "The only reason (the towns are) making a change is because they're under a financial bind and they're getting an animal control officer that will do it cheaper. I hope they get the same service."

Marsha McKenna of McKennels said she charges on a per call basis $25 for dogs and $15 for cats, whether the animal is picked up or not. McKenna said she charges hourly for court work and surveillance or stake-outs where animal abuse or neglect is suspected.

McKenna said she does not handle livestock calls. She will respond to calls regarding dogs, cats and "small undomesticated animals, such as skunks and squirrels."

She leaves the control of livestock to the farmers and bigger wild animals to the game wardens, she said.

Greenwood selectmen were scheduled to vote on the change of animal control officers Tuesday night. Selectman Bartlett said earlier this week that selectmen would likely hire McKenna to begin work as of July 1.

West Paris selectman Hugo Heikkinen was also at last week's Greenwood selectmen's meeting. He said West Paris is also considering changing animal control officers. West Paris' contract with Larrabee expires next April, Heikkinen said.

Jackson-Silver Auxiliary

On June 20, Jackson-Silver Unit, American Legion Auxiliary, met for their last regular meeting of the summer.

The delegates who attended the 73rd annual State Convention of the American Legion and Auxiliary reported on the new slate of Department Officers and other business of the convention. One important thing to be noted is the dues increase voted after much discussion and opposition. To Jackson-Silver members this means that when they receive their dues notices in July the amount which appears on it will be increased by 50 cents if paid after Sept. 1, the effective date of the state dues increase. Most other Units already charge more for dues than does Jackson-Silver Unit, which does not keep dues for its own use, but has other fund-raising activities to pay for all its projects.

Other highlights reported were the awards which the Unit received. Besides the usual certificate from the Veterans Administration for having exceeded 1990 membership by April 30, a plaque for third place for music and a certificate for having the best pressbook. These will be on display at the meeting room in the Legion Hall in Locke Mills.

It is customary for each District Auxiliary to put on a skit at the convention banquet, based on the membership theme for the year. This time the theme was baseball and the Unit 68 delegation took part in the skit under the leadership of Linda Jack of the Norway Unit and the judges proclaimed the Second District as the winner of the skit competition.

Past Unit President, Noreen Russo, reported on plans for the float to be entered in the parade for Greenwood's 175th anniversary celebration. There was also discussion about items for the supper which the Unit will be serving at the Legion Hall that evening, July 27.

Members of the Unit are invited to a social time on July 18 at the home of Mary Lyon on North Pond. If those who wish to swim arrive at 4 p.m., there will be time to do so before the meal. Meats and drinks will be provided by the hostess. Salads and desserts should be brought by the members—potluck.

The usual family picnic of the Legion and Auxiliary will be in August, the date to be announced. The next regular meeting is scheduled for Sept. 5.

ASA H. SESSIONS, CHARLES I. SESSIONS, BERTHA S. TUFTS, REX HEATON SESSIONS, FLORENCE S. LINDBERGE, MELDA S. HUNT, MELDA S. LABRECQUE, CHARLES S. SESSIONS, WALTER S. SESSIONS AND ROBERT ASA SESSIONS, who may be deceased and any persons unascertained or not in being or out of State claiming, or who may claim as heirs, legal representatives, devisees, or assigns or in any other way, by through, or under said above-named persons.

This cause came to be heard on motion of Plaintiff's attorney Michael J. O'Donnell whose address is 61 Main Street, Box 511, Bethel, Maine 04217, for service by publication upon the Defendants: ASA H. Sessions, Charles I. Sessions, Bertha S. Tufts, Rex Heaton Sessions, Florence S. Lindberge, Melda S. Hunt, Melda S. Labrecque, Charles S. Sessions, Walter S. Sessions, and Robert ASA Sessions, who may be deceased and any persons unascertained or not in being or out of State claiming, or who may claim as heirs, legal representatives, devisees, or assigns, or in any other way by through, or under said Defendants, pursuant to Maine Rules of Civil Procedure 4(g) and it appears that this is an action of quiet title to the following described real estate: Land in Milton Plantation, Oxford County, State of Maine and being a certain lot or parcel of land known as the Aaron Stevens Farm and all of that part of said farm with the buildings thereon, lying and being south of the "Old Willow Hill" line, so known, in area, seventy-five acres, being the same, more or less, and being the same real estate precisely as deed to Azariah B. Noyes by Esko Niskanen by his deed of warranty dated June 15, 1923.

Excepting and reserving that parcel of land sold to one Warren Smith by warranty deed of Liston C. Bean dated April 22, 1974 and recorded April 23, 1974 in the Oxford County Registry of Deeds in Book 818, Page 154. Brought by the plaintiffs against the Defendants and that the Defendants can not with due diligence be served by any other prescribed method; and that the Defendants are unknown, unascertained, not in being or out of State and their whereabouts are unknown and can not be ascertained by reasonable diligence; it is ordered that the Defendants appear and defend the cause and file a written answer to the complaint on or before the 12th day of August, 1991. You and your attorney must file your answer by delivering it in person or by mail to the office of the Clerk of the Eleventh District Court, Division of Northern Oxford, Congress Street, Rumford, Maine 04276. On or before the day you file your answer, you or your attorney must mail a copy of your answer to the Plaintiff's attorney, whose name and address appears below.

IMPORTANT WARNING: IF YOU FAIL TO FILE AN ANSWER WITHIN THE TIME STATED ABOVE, OR IF AFTER YOU FILE YOUR ANSWER, YOU FAIL TO APPEAR AT ANY TIME THE COURT NOTIFIED YOU TO DO SO, A JUDGMENT BY DEFAULT MAY BE ENTERED AGAINST YOU IN YOUR ABSENCE FOR THE MONEY DAMAGES OR OTHER RELIEF DEMANDED IN THE COMPLAINT. IF THIS OCCURS, YOUR EMPLOYER MAY BE ORDERED TO PAY PART OF YOUR WAGES TO THE PLAINTIFF OR YOUR PERSONAL PROPERTY, INCLUDING BANK ACCOUNTS AND YOUR REAL ESTATE MAY BE TAKEN TO SATISFY THE JUDGMENT. IF YOU INTEND TO OPPOSE THIS LAWSUIT, DO NOT FAIL TO ANSWER WITHIN THE REQUIRED TIME.

If you believe the Plaintiffs are not entitled to all or part of the claim set forth in the complaint or if you believe you have a claim of your own against the Plaintiffs, you should talk to a lawyer. If you feel you may not afford to pay a fee to a lawyer, you may ask the office of the clerk of the District Court at Congress Street, Rumford, Maine 04276, or the office of any other Clerk of the District Court for information as to places where you may seek legal assistance.

It is further ordered that an attested copy of this order be published in THE BETHEL OXFORD COUNTY CITIZEN, a newspaper of general circulation in Oxford County once a week for three (3) successive weeks.

Dated at Rumford, Maine this 20 day of June, 1991.

YOUR CARPET CAN CAUSE ASTHMA AND ALLERGIES

They, invisible house dust mites dwell in the carpeting and rug fibers of 10 households. They cause allergy and asthma symptoms in up to 20 million Americans. In fact, dust mites may actually cause asthma to develop in some children.

Vacuuming does not remove house dust mites from your home. REMOVAL kills them. The house dust mite dies, but its feces, an effective trigger of your child's asthma, may live up to 8 months.

THOUGHTS FROM THE Pastor's Study

The Bethel Area Clergy Association, with the help of pastors of surrounding churches, brings you these meditations. Not based on any set theme, they will be individual for each pastor. It is hoped you will find in these words, comfort and help for your daily life.

In the book of Judges, which is one of the historical books of the Old Testament of the Bible, we find the record of a dark and sad history of the nation of Israel. According to Biblical record there were a series of fourteen conquests by enemy nations around them, followed, by the grace of God, by fourteen victories.

The sixth verse of the seventeenth chapter seems to epitomize the main reason behind this strange historical record. The verse reads as follows: "In those days there was no king in Israel, but every man did that which was right in his own eyes." In other words the lack of any definite authority led to the position of no absolutes. The country was led by a series of leaders called "Judges," hence the name of the book. The scriptural record reveals that this political philosophy, however, persisted and eventually led to the downfall of the nation.

This deeply concerns me because I can see evidence of the same trend in our own nation. Lawlessness and crime are constantly on the increase. There seems to be a blatant disregard and disrespect for the laws of the land. Seemingly, everyone is doing what they feel "is right in their own eyes." People just don't want to accept absolutes in anything.

This same trend is seen on a national level. The First Amendment has been manipulated by the Supreme Court all out of reason from those who wrote it. For example it's hard to believe that the authors of the Constitution would regard the desecration and burning of our country flag as just an "act of free speech." This confirms what one Chief Justice of the Supreme Court supposedly said, "that the Constitution says what the Supreme Court says it says."

A more recent example is when another lower court has decreed that it is no longer lawful to pray using the name of God at a public school or college Baccalaureate observance as it could mean "the establishment of a religion." How far fetched can you get? History will indicate that many of the great men who framed the Constitution were men of prayer. George Washington, the Father of our Nation, spent hours in prayer.

What would he think of such a ruling? Is it freedom of religion or freedom from religion that is in view? Another case of men "doing what is right in their own eyes."

The same trend is also in the spiritual realm. There are now those who hold that the Bible is not to be considered to be the infallible Word of God but rather it merely "contains the word of God." Thus we invalidate the authority of God's Word, for it apparently says different things to different people, so that once again one can "do what is right in their own eyes."

My prayer is that God's people everywhere be aroused at the evident inherent danger, and pray as never before that the leaders of this nation will also see the danger and begin to turn this country around. For if the present trend continues one day anarchy will reign, like we have seen in so called "demonstrations" in our cities. Then, as Israel, we will no longer exist as a nation. Ridiculous, absurd, you might say! Then read Psalm 9:17.

For a long time now I have believed that the Christian people in this country hold the destiny of this nation in their hands. In my view the only hope is a sweeping spiritual revival across our great land. May Christians everywhere heed the injunction given to Solomon and the nation of Israel so many years ago, "If my people who are called by name, shall humble themselves and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways, then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and heal their land." (II Chron. 7:14).

Therefore, may we pray fervently for the above that our country will get back to the spiritual principles of our founding fathers to observe and obey the Laws of the Land rather than "everyone doing what is right in their own eyes." Also that the churches of this land will come back to the God of our forefathers, by accepting the whole Bible as God's Word.

Rev. Roland M. Lord, Asst. Pastor
Bryant Pond Baptist Church

In Memoriam

In Loving Memory of my Father
Robert J. Lowe
who died June 28, 1990

You were my father and we had lots of fun. I was your daughter, but not the only one!

We used to go fishing and I'd bait my own hook. Every so often you'd give me a look. We'd spent time together whenever we could. Then life gets so busy and that's understood.

We all got older as all people do. I got married with children of two. Monica & Carrie look up into the night. They see the twinkling, the brightest of light.

They say there's grampa up there in the sky. Their tiny hands reach up and they wave to you "Hi."

They turn and ask me if grampa could, I stop and tell them, God has him for good.

You left us so quick, it just wasn't right. You were never given a chance to try and fight.

Our love for you will always be near, Monica and Carrie wish you were here. I know we'll see you again some day. Until then, we really will be okay.

Lovingly remembered,
Jane, Phil, Monica & Carrie

In Memoriam

In Loving Memory of

Husband-Father-Grandfather
June 28, 1990-June 28-1991

Like a stone dropped into a pool, the ripples of our loved one's life spread on and on and never truly leave us.

He lives on in the kindness and comfort he showed, the generosity and love that he shared, the caring portrayed through the warmth of his smile and gentleness and friendliness of his voice, he made everyone feel special and important.

He wished us no farewell, nor even said "Good-Bye." He was gone before we knew it, that day will never die. His "Golden Heart" stopped beating with all his love inside, but "Life Goes On" we know he'd say, and day by day we sure do try.
